

The first few lessons of Pre-k are all about accepting and discovering the classroom in an English environment. Meeting our new friends and learning basic classroom rules and regulations. Adapting to a routine is a must during the first few lessons in order for the young learners to feel safe and to start comprehending basic instructions. We concentrate on routine, songs, chants, picture books and fine motor skills activities in order for the young learners to familiarize themselves and flourish in their new English home.
