

What are you made of?

We are made of vision

We are made of people like you, for people like you. We are made of generations to come, leaders of tomorrow, shapers of the future. We are made of the same materials and we share a common goal: to empower Greek youth through education and see Greece thrive for years to come.

We are Anatolia
College

For over 130 years, we have stood tall and weathered challenges, educating students and making a positive impact in Greece and around the world through the work of our educators and alumni. We have given birth to the brightest of stars; educational role models, forward-thinkers, paradigm shifters and disruptors.

The essence of Anatolia College's mission is to be an open and inviting academic center for young learners of every background. We believe that every student should receive the highest quality of education. Each student is empowered and inspired to make a difference inside and outside the classroom, shaping today, tomorrow and the next century.

Anatolia College is an American non-profit educational institution operating in Greece, serving all levels of education. We depend on charitable gifts to offer unmatched resources and programs that we believe can transform students and change their future. As a non-profit institution, even the smallest donation makes a difference; from providing funding for infrastructure, spaces and new programs, to scholarships and class material.

We are made of stories

Our founding fathers' pioneering spirit led to modern education for the minority communities in Asia Minor in 1886. Armed with nothing more than their belief in the transformational power of education and the desire to empower the less fortunate, these visionaries laid the foundation to what was to become modern-day Anatolia College.

Since then, more than 12,000 alumni have followed in their path, many of them creating a powerful, inspiring story. A story that transformed them. A story worth sharing.

A part of you has always been a part of us, a part of the Anatolia College community. Even unknowingly, we've shared your story. Because we share the same ideals, characteristics, passion - we share a common vision.

It's up to us to make it a reality.

See yourself in our students; in their past, present and future.

See yourself in us.

We believe in our core commitment to provide world-class, innovative, educational opportunities that empower Greek youth.

- We provide more than 37,000 hours of community service annually, helping disadvantaged children, building and repairing schools and community centers, teaching English, helping those severely affected by lingering economic crises and, most recently, providing assistance to refugees.
- We continue our long tradition of promoting diversity and access through a landmark Scholarship Program. This program has provided thousands of students with millions of dollars in grants over the past 50 years. Currently, approximately 25% of Anatolia College students receive scholarship assistance.
- We host extracurricular educational programs and competitions annually that engage more than 6,000 students from every part of Greece and from other countries, including Turkey, Germany, India and the United States.

We are made

We are made of future pioneers

We invest in people, and want to see them flourish. We invite them to find themselves through our academic programs and achieve their goals. We help them hone their skills and grow further than ever imagined. Seeing that change in them will help them bring change to the world in turn, wherever life might take them. Education on its own is empowerment, but it is not enough. We need to expand the concept of education, nurturing and cultivating talents and intriguing inquiring minds from an early age.

To that effect:

- We host the Center for Talented Youth - CTY Greece, established with the support of the Johns Hopkins University and the founding donation of the Stavros Niarchos Foundation. CTY Greece represents a dynamic initiative for the youth of Greece, one that discovers and nurtures some of the most gifted and talented young people. A pre-college residential program for high school students on the Anatolia College campus, CTY Greece is also an elementary day program in Thessaloniki and Athens.
- We also operate an Entrepreneurship Hub with programs for budding entrepreneurs throughout Greece. The program supports start-ups through lecture series, mentorships and investment opportunities. To date, hundreds of individuals have benefitted from the Entrepreneurship Hub, resulting in businesses that provide jobs and strengthen the Greek economy.
- We organize the Anatolia College Science & Technology Annual Conference (ACSTAC) at our high school level, modeled on professional scientific conferences, created for students. In addition to exciting curiosity in and understanding of the sciences, ACSTAC strives to promote collaboration, creativity, decision-making and self-expression. We encourage each participant to reach his or her personal and academic best. After all, history has shown that, given proper support and encouragement, students can accomplish spectacular things.

Building a brighter Greece, one student at a time

The Campaign for Anatolia College's next century

We are raising funds for three critical areas that will transform Anatolia College for its next century. With your help, we can achieve the change we want to see in the world.

1. We are made of openness

The Student Access and Success Project will:

- Endow scholarships for elementary, high school, and college students to respond to the increasing need created by the economic crisis.
- Establish an endowed scholarship fund for the Center for Talented Youth (CTY) to continue Anatolia College's support for gifted Greek youth who benefit from this enrichment program.
- Construct a multi-purpose Student Center at the American College of Thessaloniki to serve as the heart of ACT, to cultivate community spirit and to amplify student success.

2. We are made of knowledge

The Academic Excellence Project will:

- Establish an endowed fund for faculty development to provide Anatolia College teachers with new, innovative learning opportunities using the latest in technology.
- Further develop the Innovation Isle (STEM), which includes a fabrication lab and a green chemistry lab, part of our Center for Green Education, a world first at a high school level.
- Create more flexible learning spaces that promote new and innovative pedagogical approaches and methods.
- Upgrade library and infrastructure programs, improve technology provisions, enhance collections and preserve historical archives.

3. We are made of inspiration

Campus enhancements and innovations serve to further accommodate our shifting learning paradigm and new educational model. Investing in new infrastructure and technology (in new spaces, classrooms and labs, etc.) allows education to inspire and gives room for students to grow beyond their potential.

The Campus Enhancements Project will:

- Build a new, unified Elementary School campus with modern state-of-the-art facilities and infrastructure to replace aging, outdated buildings.
- Upgrade and expand facilities for the International Baccalaureate Program to support growth in this academically challenging and rigorous curriculum.
- Improve outdated classrooms and laboratories at our century-old high school.
- Introduce environmentally friendly systems to improve energy efficiency and Anatolia College's carbon footprint.

If you believe in the power of education, its impact, how it touches and changes the life of each student... we invite you to invest in our common vision.

Help us build a brighter Greece, one student at a time!

We are made of strong supporters

"If you believe in education, in empowering Greek youth, if you believe that education is one of the key determinants to the future of this country, Anatolia is a vehicle through which you can express your support for these very important ideas".

Chip Elfner, Chair of Board of Trustees Anatolia College.

"The Stavros Niarchos Foundation funds organizations and projects worldwide that aim to achieve a broad, lasting and positive impact for society at large. These organizations and projects should of course exhibit strong leadership and sound management. Anatolia College does exhibit just these characteristics. This is a crucial reason why we decided to move forward with the establishment of the CTY-Greece at Anatolia College".

Panos Papoulias, Deputy Director of Programs & Strategic Initiatives, Stavros Niarchos Foundation.

"INTRASOFT, Anatolia and CTY share a common passion: the pursuit and nurture of excellence. For us, aligning ourselves with CTY and its worthy cause and also Anatolia through their scholarship programme simply underlines our commitment to our passion, our commitment to the communities of which we are a part, our commitment to the younger generation as they endeavor to be the best they can be. We have placed talent and excellence at the centre of our vision for the future. We are supporting CTY and Anatolia confident that we are placing our trust in the capable hands shaping tomorrow's leaders".

Alex Manos, CEO, INTRASOFT International, Anatolia College alum.

"Anatolia College is without a doubt, one of the best primary and secondary education institutions in Greece. Besides its remarkable tradition, stretching back to the late nineteenth century, Anatolia remains on the forefront of educational innovation and the fact that out of all the private schools in Greece, Anatolia's scholarship program is the largest and most comprehensive, solidifies its position as a beacon for equal opportunities and access to high quality education at a time of particular socioeconomic adversity".

Dr. Peter Kalantzis, President of the Executive Board, John S. Latsis Public Benefit Foundation.

"Anatolia has been a beacon of educational excellence throughout its history and it is no surprise that it was Anatolia that raised the exemplar initiative of hosting CTY-Greece, with the support of the Johns Hopkins University and the Stavros Niarchos Foundation. I have had the chance to get to know all CTY's initiatives for pupils and teachers and all I can say is that I am impressed, awed and moved from the level of their commitment, excellence and compassion".

Martha Kesisoglou, Division Manager, Marketing & Communication Wholesale Banking, Public Relations, CSR and Sponsorships, Eurobank.

"Anatolia College is all about social & cultural diversity and successfully combining different educational systems with individual talent, personal drive, collective ethics into one powerful force for excellence".

Vasiliki Adamidou, Head of Corporate Communications, CSR & Social Media, LIDL Hellas.

"As shipping is a beacon to the Greek economy, CTY and Anatolia are beacons to the education of Greece, and beyond – cultivating the drive to make a difference in the world, no matter how small the country, village or island you are coming from, but purely based on merit, competence, hard work, strong values and gratitude".

Charis Plakantonaki, Chief Strategic Officer, Star Bulk & Anatolia College alumna & Trustee.

"Anatolia College impacted the lives of each and every one of us. We strongly believe that we need to help the School keep transforming students' lives. The alumni association's participation in the School's Comprehensive Campaign, through the donation of a valuable asset, bears a symbolic significance, exemplifying our commitment to our alma mater. The alumni, as members of the Anatolia community, should support and contribute to the future development of Anatolia".

Emmy Zoumboulidou, President of the Anatolia Alumni Association.

"... Anatolia is very important to me, because I can see the result. Imagine influencing over 2.000 students every day for a better life. I can't think of a more important and a more successful or positive investment that can be made".

George Bissell, Anatolia College Trustee.
