

Dr. Robin “Roxanne” Giampapa
Pinewood Head of School and Vice President for the International School Division

Robin (Roxanne) Giampapa joined Pinewood in 2006 where she taught in all divisions - Elementary, Middle, High and IB - and served as schoolwide Coordinator of Curriculum & Studies. In 2010, she was appointed Head of School. In this capacity, she works with all constituents to drive the mission and vision of the school. Under her leadership, enrollment has more than doubled and academics are being transformed to reflect a 21st century framework. Prior to joining Pinewood, Dr. Giampapa gained valuable experience in the United States and Greece. In Ohio, she taught for 11 years in the rigorous private, college-preparatory setting at Columbus School for Girls. In Greece, she worked as adjunct professor for New York College teaching undergraduate courses in Shakespeare, modern literature and history. She earned a BS in Elementary Education from The Ohio State University. She commenced MA studies in Literature at Yale University before returning to The Ohio State University to complete her MA in Language, Literature & Culture and PhD in Educational Policy & Leadership.
